```sql
Practice - 1
create database bank;
use bank;
drop table Account;
create table Account (accno int not null AUTO_INCREMENT,
                                    cname varchar(30),
                      address varchar(30),
                      type varchar(10),
                      opdate date, bal int, primary key(accno));

alter table Account AUTO_INCREMENT = 1000;

insert into Account(cname, address, type, opdate, bal) values('Alice', 'Delhi', 'savings', '2012-10-10', 50000);
insert into Account(cname, address, type, opdate, bal) values('Bob', 'Chennai', 'current', insert into Account(cname, address, type, opdate, bal) values('Cindy', 'Jammu', 'current', insert into Account(cname, address, type, opdate, bal) values('Sam', 'Cochin', 'savings',
'2012-10-10', 60000);
'2012-10-10', 70000);
'2012-10-10', 80000);
insert into Account(cname, address, type, opdate, bal) values('Eric', 'Pune', 'salary',
'2012-10-10', 90000);

select * from Account;

select avg(bal) from Account;
select count(*) from Account;
select cname from Account where bal = (select max(bal) from Account);
select cname from Account where bal = (select min(bal) from Account);
select sum(bal) from Account;
```